WILL SUE SUGAR TRUST

Receiver of Looted Phila. Bank after Refinery

ROOSEVELT'S EVIDENCE

One of the Assets of Wrecked Real Estate Trust Company is the Refinery

TIED UP BY THE SUGAR COMBINE

Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—President Roosevelt is in possession of evidence furnished by Receiver Earle, of the wrecked Real Estate Trust company, which is expected to result in proceedings by the department of justice against the so-called sugar trust. One of the assets of the Real Estate Trust company is the sugar refinery in this city built by Adolph Segal, the promoter, whose borrowings from Frank K. Hipple, the suicide president of the bank, were responsible for the collapse of the institution. The American Sugar Refining company holds a controlling interest in the refinery, which has never been operated, and Receiver Earle hopes to show that it was tied up as a result of a conspiracy in which the sugar combine was involved.

Recently Receiver Earle communicated with the department of justice, and in response Chief Wilkie, of the secret service department, came to this city and held a conference with Mr. Earle.

The receiver held a protracted conference with C. E. Hotchkiss, of New York, a lawyer representing the American Sugar Refining company, several directors of the Real Estate Trust company and counsel for Adolph Segal. Mr. Earle said the question of whether he should proceed against the so-called trust under the provisions of the Sherman act or under the state law was discussed, but not definitely settled. A further conference will be held. The receiver evaded a question as to whether criminal action would be instituted against the sugar combination.

Mr. Earle issued a statement to the creditors of the Real Estate Trust company bearing upon his contemplated action. It is in part as follows:

"In the first place, it is true that I have communicated with President Roosevelt in regard to the conduct of the sugar trust. That communication, however, is now his property, not mine, and I cannot say more than that I outlined what I understood to make a complete case against the organization and some of its officers.

"Whatever the president may do I feel it my imperative duty, having accepted this trust, to proceed in this matter. I fully understand the risks that I am incurring, personal and otherwise, and yet the matter to my mind is so clear that I would be derelict to my duty should I hesitate.

"I have not wished to go ahead until I felt that with a moral case that would convince anybody I could myself give legal testimony to make out the prima facie case, and I am prepared to say that while no one can predict the result of such a conflict, that I am convinced, if I live, I can supply enough evidence, no matter what the trust may do.

"Adolph Segal and his counsel have taken the position that he was a solvent man, ruined by the machination of this trust; that he is acting in the best of good faith, and will, if he gets justice, be enabled to liquidate his indebtedness. I do not wish to pass upon this question now, but in this fight I do ask that they be given an opportunity to demonstrate their good faith by the assistance they render the creditors of this institution in obtaining justice."

Skating Rink for Bellefonte

We are to be in line with our neighboring towns in the matter of gymnastic stunts—why, because William H. Brown will shortly start a roller skating rink in the Armory. Many of our citizens will doubtless remember the pleasure they experienced in the rink on Water street. Night after night the building was crowded, and the pleasure then has lingered still, so that in many towns and cities the rinks are again appearing, and for a time the set who are fond of amusement and exercise will in this manner obtain both.

IN NITTANY VALLEY.

Up to this time no special arrangements have been made for the C. R. R. of Pa., but its regular train service gives ample accommmodation for bringing and taking the crowd each day.

Important Legal Decision.

An important legal decision regarding the reading of the Bible in the public schools has gone on the records of Pennsylvania. A petition from citizens of Williamsport borough was received by Judge Kunkel, of Dauphin county, stating that the directors of the public schools had refused to allow children to enter school after the customary Bible reading in the morning before the regular work began. Some of the children had persistently refused to attend the opening exercises. The directors had demanded that the children either attend the Bible reading or else not attend at all. The petition asked that the court compel the directors to allow the children to enter school after the opening exercises.

In reply Judge Kunkle said that the reading of the Bible was generally conceded to be a pretty decent sort of occupation and he saw no reason why any one should object to it.

In the conclusion of his opinion, he says: If the reading of the Bible in the schools is unlawful, it may be enjoined; if it be lawful and a proper exercise of the discretion vested in the school board in the conduct of schools, the petitioners have no ground of complaint. But the question is not necessarily involved here and we do not pass upon it. The prayer of the petitioners is, therefore, overruled.

Announcement.

For seven years the Ithaca Conservatory of Music has sent its advanced students on concert tours throughout the entire East, these companies appearing in twenty-two different states. Although these companies have in the main given the best of satisfaction, the management feels that they should now give their patrons an opportunity of hearing some of their best talent. They have therefore selected two members from the regular faculty, who with two specially engaged singers will give a limited number of concerts during the Fall Season. This company should therefore in no way be confused with the regular students' Concert Companies which will continue as heretofore.

Each member of the Special Company is an artist able to give an entire evenings concert, and we recommend it to our patrons as the strongest concert attraction ever sent entour by the Ithaca Entertainment Bureau.

Come and hear them at the Petrikin Hall, Thursday, evening Oct. 4th.

Dimeling for State Senator.

After having been deadlocked for six weeks and having taken several hundred ballots, the Democratic senatorial conference for the Thirty-fourth District, including Centre and Clearfield Counties, met at Tyrone Monday and nominated George M. Dimeling, of Clearfield.

The conference was compelled to make a choice] Monday, otherwise the State Committee would have named the man today.

STENSLAND CONFESSES

Chicago Bank Wrecker Pleads Guilty

DENIES THE REPORT

Declares if Shortage is Over $400,000 it was taken by Cashier Hering

HE DID NOT ATTEMPT SUICIDE

New York, Sept. 25.—Under arrest by New York detectives, Paul O. Stensland, former president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, Chicago, who stands indicted for heavy embezzlements from that institution, has arrived in New York. He was taken from the steamer Prince Adalbert, on which he came from Morocco, to which country he had fled after the wrecking of the bank, and, according to his son, Theodore Stensland, he will plead guilty to several of the charges brought against him.

Stensland has made a complete confession, according to Assistant States Attorney Harry Olsen, of Chicago, who went to Tangier, Morocco, to take the former bank official into custody, and in his confession he implicated other prominent Chicago men. Attorney Olsen declined to name these men.

Theodore Stensland, who gave out an official statement for his father, declared that the latter had made no signed confession, but that he had admitted committing certain offenses which constitute embezzlement under the Illinois laws. To some of the indictments for embezzlement his father would plead guilty, he said, and in the case of others he would turn state's evidence and implicate all others who should be indicted in connection with the failure of the bank.

Stensland made the further statement, according to the son, that if the shortage in the bank was over $400,000 the money in excess of that amount had been taken by Henry W. Hering, the former cashier of the bank, who was jointly indicted with Stensland on charges of stealing over $1,000,000 from the bank and for forgery.

Stensland arrived in New York weak physically and showing much evidence of the strain which has attended his extraordinary flight through many countries, his desperate but ineffectual try for freedom down the West African coast and his final capture in the Moroccan city of Tangier, from which place the United States authorities were permitted to remove him by the government of Morocco. There was an affecting meeting between father and son on board the tug Catherine Moran, which the prisoner boarded at quarantine.

Stensland denies the report that he tried to commit suicide while in Morocco. He says that a sudden fainting spell there was interpreted as an attempt at self destruction by the Moroccan soldiers.

Stensland was locked up at police station over night and was taken to Chicago to-day (Tuesday).

The Prinz Adalbert was several hours later than expected in arriving at quarantine and was met by a tug, on board of which were the junior Stensland, a friend, Herman Benner, of Johnstown, Pa.; Detectives Kinder and Binns, of Chicago, and two New York detectives.

Stensland was pale and seemed very weak as he passed slowly from the steamer to the tug and then into the cabin. Here he was formally placed under arrest by the New York detectives, and here also after a few moments he received his son. Both father and son were completely overcome and made no effort to restrain their emotions. The elder man seemed quite unable to talk, and when he did so it was in tones so low that he could scarcely be heard.

That Young People's Exhibit.

From all indications the young peoples exhibit at the Centre county fair week after next will be one of the most interesting, if not one of the biggest, of any one entered. Already applications for space in the exhibition building are coming in so rapidly that the management have decided to make a separate place for the fruit exhibit by erecting a big tent near the main building for the other exhibits, and it is now pretty certain that the young people's exhibit will take up considerable space. Remember every boy or girl in Centre county, as well as young men and women, are urged to contribute something to this exhibit. The choice is left entirely to yourself so that it should be a comparatively easy matter to bring at least one or more articles. Make this one of the leading exhibits.

REPUBLICAN DAY.

Edwin S. Stuart and His Colleagues on Ticket Draw Big Crowd to Grange Park.

In spite of the threatening weather the largest crowd of the week attended the Granger's Picnic at Centre Hall on Thursday. This was in a great measure due to the anxiety on the part of the people of Centre county to see and hear Edwin S. Stuart, the Republican candidate for Governor. The Gubernatorial party left Philadelphia Wednesday night at 11 o'clock on their six weeks tour of the State and the Grange Park at Centre Hall was their first stopping place.

In the party with Mr. Stuart were Robert S. Murphy of Johnstown, candidate for Lieutenent Governor; Robert K. Young, of Tioga, candidate for Auditor General; Henry Houck, of Lebanon, candidate for Secretory of Internal Affairs; with Lewis E. Beitler as director of the tour and a host of newspaper correspondents.

During the morning the candidates held a public reception in the Republican headquarters tents and at 1:30 P. M. held a meeting in the Auditorium. The meeting was presided over by Prof. C. L. Gramley of Rebersburg who introduced the different speakers. Edwin S. Stuart the candidate for Governor was the first speaker and he received an enthusiastic reception. He is a very pleasant speaker and reviewed the work of the last extra session of the legislature, pledged himself if elected to faithfully carry out the pledges of the last Republican platform.

He was followed by Robert S. Murphy, the candidate for Lieutenent Governor who is an eloquent and forceful speaker. Then came addresses by Robert K. Young, Major E. A. McDowell, and last but not least, Henry Houck a good whole souled dutchman who brought down the house by his witty sayings.

Mr. Stuart and his party came to Bellefonte on the afternoon train and staid over night at the Brockerhoff house. They held a reception in the Brockerhoff parlors from 7 until 10 o'clock which was largely attended.

Church Dedication.

Sunday, September, 30th, will be a gala day with the Roman Catholics of Philipsburg, for on that date will occur the dedication of their handsome church, the auditorium of which is just now completed. Our Catholic friends are not allowed to go any faster than they can pay and for that reason their church building in small places usualy covers, as has been the case with this new church of St. Peter and Paul.

The pastor, Rev. Kumerant, has been indefatigable in his efforts and his people have been more than generous in their giving. The beautiful stained glass windows are all memorial and many of them are remarkably handsome for a church of its size. The interior finish is artistic and beautiful and reflects credicably on the taste and skill of artists whose work it is. The furnishings are in keep with the finish of the auditorium, and equally tasteful.

Bishop Garvey, of the diocese of Altoona will be in charge of the dedication services which take place at 10 o'clock a. m. and Rev. J. C. Foin, of Danville, will preach the sermon. Quite a number of other clergymen will be present at the services. Special music will be rendered in which the choir will be assisted by the Osceola choir.—Philipsburg Ledger.

Prohibition Nominations.

At a meeting of the Prohibition Senatorial conferees held in Philipsburg, Rev. Marshall C. Piper, of Milesburg, was nominated for State Senator.

The Clearfield County Executive Committee met at Clearfield Thursday and filled vacancies on the Prohibition ticket. The ticket as completed is: State Senate, Rev. M. C. Piper, Milesburg; Congress, James Barclay, Sinnemahoning; Assembly, James W. Nelson, Shawsville, James H. Minds, Ramey, and Peter Gearhart, Clearfield; Sheriff Con. Allen, Houtzdale; Jury Commissioner, G. W. Campbell, Curry Run; Coroner Dr. Hamilton, DuBois.

Messrs. Barclay and Minds have been nominated by the Republicans, while Allen and Gearhart have the Democratice nomination. The latter has also been nominated by the Labor and Grange convention.

HEARST IN THE LEAD

N. Y. Democrats Will Probably Name Him For Gov.

JEROME WITHDRAWS

It is Believed Newspaper Man will be Nominated on First Ballot.

HE WILL ENDORSE BRYAN'S PLAN

Buffalo, Sept. 26.—The Democratic state convention will nominate a governor and a full state ticket at a session which may go through with all the smoothness that characterized the first brief session. Lewis Nixon, of New York, the temporary chairman, made an appeal for harmony, which was applauded more than any other utterance, although the convention could not be termed a wholly enthusiastic one so far.

There is a tension among the delegates, however, and there may break a storm to sweep away the structure which was builded after many hours of earnest conference on the part of the party leaders who are trying to find a common ground where, temporarily at least, the Democracy of the state may pitch its tent and hope to withstand the tempests of the coming campaign.

According to the consensus of opinion, William R. Hearst, of New York, who already is the nominee of the Independence League, will probably be nominated for governor on the first ballot. Along with Mr. Hearst, it is said, the convention will name W. Stuyvesant Chanler, of Duchess county, for lieutenant governor, and John S. Whalen, of Monroe, for secretary of state. Both Mr. Chanler and Mr. Whalen are also on the Independence League ticket.

In announcing their decision to support Mr. Hearst, a number of the Democrats have declared that they had reached this decision, nto because of any conversion to all the ideas of government which Mr. Hearst represents, but because they feel that under the existing circumstances he is the strongest candidate the convention has before it. Men who have bitterly fought Mr. Hearst in years gone by have announced their intention to vote for him, although they declare they are not ready to retract any statements they have made in the past. They declare Mr. Hearst has entered into no deal with them whatever, and that the fight has been fought squarely and without pledges on either side.

Mr. Hearst is generally conceded to have gained control of the three important committees appointed at the first session of the convention, the committee on contested seats, which will decide contests in 20 districts, involving 60 votes; the committee on platform and resolutions, and the committee on permanent organization.

The platform agreed upon by a subcommittee of six appointed from the full committee will contain a plank declaring for municipal ownership under certain conditions, and it is stated will indorse W. J. Bryan in a general way.

The candidacy of District Attorney W. T. Jerome was practically withdrawn at an adjourned meeting of the Albany conference of anti-Hearst Democrats. Mr. Jerome has let it be known pretty generally that he had entered the fight in the hope of defeating the nomination of Mr. Hearst, and if this were accomplished he was satisfied.

A True Home

Real homes are often in homes which are not especially well kept, where the comfort and happiness of the inmates, rather than the preservation of the furniture, is of first importance. The object of home is to be the center, the point of tenderest interest, the pivot on which family life turns. The first requisite is to make it attractive, that none of its inmates will care to linger long outside of its limits. All legitimate means should be employed to this end, and no effort spared that can contribute to this purpose. Many houses, called homes, kept with waxy neatness by painstaking, anxious women, are so oppressive in their nicety, as to exclude all home feeling from their spotless precincts. The very name of home is synonymous with personal freedom and relaxation from care; but neither of these can be felt where such a mania for external cleanliness pervades the household as to render everything else subservient thereto.

GRANGER'S PICNIC A SUCCESS.

A Large Crowd There Wednesday—List of Exhibits.

Wednesday morning found everything lively at the Great Agricultural Fair and Picnic, from early morn people began driving and coming on trains to the grounds until fully 5000 had assembled. The day although a little warm was an ideal one and farmers for miles around laid aside their farming implements and drove to the fair.

The wonderful Ferris wheel was a great drawing card, for this is the first of the kind ever in operation at the Granger's Picnic. Two merry go rounds with their entrancing music. A refined Vaudeville performance. The wonderful steam piano and last but not least Slater's up to date comedians who give two performances daily in the large auditorium, go to help make the time pleasant for those in attendance. A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

Dynamite Kills Twelve and Nearly Wrecks a Town.

FULLY 200 WERE INJURED

Buildings in Jellico, Tenn., Were Shattered and Nearly All Glass Within a Mile Broken — Many People Are Homeless.

Jellico, Tenn., Sept. 22. — Twelve deaths, the injuring of scores of other persons, and $500,000 damage to property, were caused here when a carload of dynamite standing on a track near the Southern railway depot exploded with a report that was heard for 20 miles. Buildings were shattered in the business section of the town, and nearly every piece of glass within a radius of one mile of the scene was broken.

The freight car, one belonging to the Pennsylvania railroad lines, contained 450 boxes of 20,000 pounds of high explosives consigned to the Rand Powder company, at Clearfield, Tenn. Two causes are assigned for the explosion. One is that three parties were shooting at a mark on the car and that a bullet entered the car and caused the explosion. The other is that while the car was standing on a side track a carload of pig iron was switched against it and that the impact caused the explosion. People here are divided as to the theories, some going so far as to say that they actually saw the men firing at the car with a rifle.

The depot of the Southern, which was located near the scene of the explosion, was wholly wrecked. Two hotels, the Glenmorgan and the Carmathian, were badly wrecked, the third story of the latter being wholly destroyed. Mark Atkins, who was asleep in a room on the third floor of the Carmathian at the time, is one of the most seriously injured of the entire list of injured, which will number fully 200, counting all who were slightly hurt. Business houses were badly disfigured and stocks of goods ruined, while residences suffered severely, windows and doors being blown out in houses as far from the scene as one mile.

Among the buildings totally destroyed were the Armour Packing company's warehouse, the Jung Brewing company's warehouse, Pinnacle Brewing company's warehouse, oil tank warehouse of Kentucky Consumers' Oil company, and the Standard Oil company's warehouse. Besides the two damaged hotels, the Jellico Furniture company's building collapsed and the stock of the Smith Dry Goods company was practically ruined, although the building which it occupied, the Cumberland Opera House, the finest structure in Jellico, escaped with little damage. Fully 20 other firms suffered losses, but they occupied small buildings.

Rescuers began work soon after the explosion, and medical aid was asked of Knoxville, which sent a dozen physicians to administer to the wounded. Many people are homeless as the result of the disaster, and as almost every chimney was destroyed, cooking cannot be done in many of the houses.

Some estimates made on the loss of life extend the number of victims to as high as 40, but it is believed that this is a gross exaggeration, and if there were more than 12 known dead, that number is not expected to be exceeded by over two or three at any rate.

Insanity In Ireland.

London, Sept. 22.—A special report of the inspectors of lunacy in Ireland was issued in the form of a blue book. It shows that the proportion of insane to the total population in 1901 was 56.2 per 1000, compared with 15.2 in 1851. The number of patients in public asylums rose from 8667 in 1880 to 13,332 in 1895 and 18,094 in 1903. There was a proportionate increase in the inmates of private asylums. The figures do not include the insane outside of asylums, which is believed to be considerable.

President of New York Central Arrested

New York, Sept. 22.—William H. Newman, president of the New York Central railroad, was formally placed under arrest in the offices of the company here by order of Health Officer Darlington. He was charged with permitting the use of soft coal by the locomotives and round houses of the company in the borough of the Bronx. He protested against his arrest, and afterward Dr. Darlington consented to allow the foreman of the round house to appear in court in his place.

Was In Plot to Abduct Lincoln.

Baltimore, Sept. 22.—Samuel Bland Arnold, who confessed that he was a party to the conspiracy to abduct President Lincoln, which culminated in the assassination of the president by John Wilkes Booth, died at the home of a relative in Waverly, a suburb of this city. He was 72 years of age. Arnold with three others was sentenced in July, 1865, to life imprisonment at the Dry Tortugas. All four were pardoned by President Johnson in 1869.

Murderer Kills Himself.

Greensburg, Pa., Sept. 22.—David Suttlemyer, who has been a fugitive since Monday night, when in a fit of jealousy he fatally shot John Wilhelm, a 17-year-old boy at the fair grounds, returned to his home at Youngwood and committed suicide with the same weapon he used on young Wilhelm.

BONI TO SQUEEZE THE GOULDS

Plans to Resist Countess' Divorce Suit Unless "Fabulous" Sums Are Paid.

Paris, Sept. 22.—The attorneys for the Countess Boni De Castellane evidently anticipate an attempt on the count's part to force a delay in the trial of the divorce case, which has been fixed for October 17, unless the creditors' attachment case is previously settled.

The count is not unwilling to take every advantage of the desire of the countess and the Gould family to make sacrifices to avoid further notoriety and scandal, but it is still doubtful whether the price is not too high. It turns out that the bills piled up by the count's creditors are numerous. The amount is authoritatively described as "fabulous."

The count has another lever in the disposition of the children, who under the law, are French citizens and subject to military service. He could enter a plea before the court that if the children were given to the mother they might be taken beyond the jurisdiction of France. Such action would doubtless result in the imposition by the court of restrictions embarrassing to the countess.

If money is forthcoming to satisfy the creditors the count is not expected to make a defense, and it is believed that the divorce will be granted October 17.

WEATHER RETARDS TRADE

High Temperature Checks Distribution of Fall Goods.

New York, Sept. 22.—R. G. Dun's Weekly Review of Trade says: Unseasonably high temperature in some sections of the country retarded distribution of fall goods, but with the assistance of special sales reduced stocks of summer merchandise to a most satisfactory position. High rates for money have delayed mercantile collections somewhat, and there is still complaint regarding the scarcity of labor, but confidence in the future remains unshaken. Preparations for winter and spring keeps machinery well employed, large crops are being secured and building operations are very heavy. The volume of domestic trade is beyond all records, and foreign commerce exhibits some striking comparisons. Total merchandise exports in August were valued at about $12,000,000 more than the same month in any previous year, and imports rose $10,000,000 above the preceding record for August.

Commercial failures in the United States this week as reported by R. G. Dun are 200, against 174 last week, 153 the preceding week and 206 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 16, against 26 last week, 8 the preceding week and 34 last year.

Dentists Elect Officers.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 20.—The National Dental Association elected its officers for the coming year and selected Minneapolis, July 3, 1907, as the place and time for the next meeting. The officers elected follow: President, Dr. A. H. Beck, Chicago; vice president for the east, Dr. George Hunt, Indianapolis; vice president for the south, Dr. Geo. Van, of Gadsden, Ala.; vice president for the west, D. J. McMillan, Kansas City, Mo.; recording secretary, Dr. Charles S. Butler, Buffalo; corresponding secretary, Dr. Burton Lee Thorpe, St. Louis; treasurer, Dr. O. R. Mellindy, Knoxville.

8-Year-Old Boy Convicted of Murder.

Albia, Iowa, Sept. 24.—Oscar Napier, aged 8 years, was found guilty of the murder of a playmate. The Iowa juvenile laws does not cover murder cases, and the boy will be sentenced just the same as if he were of more mature age. The murder occurred several months ago, when Napier in a fit of passion took a shotgun and deliberately shot a boy with whom he was playing.

Bad Stomach Makes Bad Blood.

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate, work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be torpid, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. * * * It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs; especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in certain forms of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal glands."

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot and Mandrake root, or the extracts of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, liver and intestinal disorders and derangements. These several ingredients have the strongest endorsement in all such cases of such eminent medical leaders as Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hobart A. Hare, M. D., of Medical Department, University of Pa.; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Medical Department, University of New York; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D. and Prof. John King, M. D., Authors of the American Dispensatory, and scores of others among the leading medical men of our land.

Who can doubt the curative virtues of a medicine the ingredients of which have such a professional endorsement?

Constipation cured by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One or two a dose.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE

Mayor Weaver Sent Eighteen Affidavits of Delegates Alleging Bribery and Attempted Bribery—Prompt Action Was Taken.

Philadelphia, Sept. 22—Mayor Weaver's charge that D. Clarence Gibboney was nominated for the office of district attorney by the City Party county convention last Tuesday over Frederick J. Shoyer through bribery and corrupt influences, was formally presented to the convention, which reconvened to complete its nominations for the judicial ticket. The whole subject was referred to a committee composed of three Shoyer, three Gibboney and one neutral delegate, the latter being chosen by the six who were appointed by the chairman of the convention. A preliminary report was made to the convention by this committee asking for time to consider the matter and requesting the convention to adjourn to meet again at the call of the committee. This action was taken by the assembled delegates.

Mayor Weaver was notified of the appointment of the committee and was requested to appear before it at the City Party headquarters. He left his office in the city hall at once and went to meet the committee. Arriving at the City Party headquarters, he was met by W. R. Longstrith, the neutral member of the convention committee. After waiting for more than an hour for the other members of the committee to appear, he left for his suburban home. Five minutes after his departure the committee reached headquarters and announced that the investigation of the mayor's allegations would be taken up later and that both Shoyer's and Gibboney's political managers would be asked to testify.

Intense interest was manifested because of the mayor's declared intention to furnish the reassembled delegates with proof that delegates pledged to Shoyer had been bribed to vote for Gibboney. In his opening address Chairman Franklin S. Edmonds declared that the integrity of the convention had been assailed, and that no outside influences were necessary in the investigation of the charges. Mr. Gibboney had suggested the appointment of the mayor's advisory board to pass judgment upon Mr. Weaver's evidence, and the executive committee expressed the opinion that men not active in politics would be better fitted to act as impartial judges, naming three prominent lawyers. Chairman Edmonds maintained that the convention was able to manage its own affairs, and on motion appointed six delegates, who selected a seventh, to investigate the mayor's charges.

Mayor Weaver's communication to the convention was accompanied by copies of 18 affidavits made by delegates, charging bribery and attempted bribery. One of these was the affidavit of J. Stanley Urquhart, a delegate of the 20th ward, charging that he saw one man pay another $10 to change his vote from Shoyer to Gibboney.

The convention, which adjourned on Tuesday without completing its nominations because of the lack of a quorum, nominated Charles B. McMichael and W. H. Staake for common pleas courts Nos. 3 and 5 and Joseph F. Lamorelle for judge of the orphans' court.

The "Green Goods" Swindle Again.

New York, Sept. 22.—In the familiar guise of prospective purchasers from the country, two detectives met by appointment and arrested two alleged "green goods" men at a house in West 65th street. The prisoners, who were charged with selling "green goods" and held for the federal authorities, gave the names of Thomas Ryan and James Gilbert. The arrests followed an investigation by postoffice inspectors of complaints that farmers of Milford Oakland county, Mich., were receiving circulars offering counterfeit money for sale.

Savannah Theatre Burned.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 22.—The Savannah theatre, owned by the Savannah Theatre company, of which Albert Weis, of New York, is president, was destroyed by fire. The loss is $75,000, covered by insurance. A general alarm, calling out the entire department, was turned in, but the efforts of the firemen were successful only in preventing the spread of the flames to surrounding property. No play was in progress at the time. Had there been there might have been great loss of life, as the spread of the flames was extremely rapid.

Shot and Killed Himself.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 22.—Mills Whittlesley, a prominent citizen of this city and a former instructor in the Lawrenceville preparatory school, shot and killed himself in his office here. The reason for ending his life is not yet known. He was general agent in New Jersey for the Northwestern Life Insurance company.

Preacher Shoots Himself.

Dupont, Ga., Sept. 22.—Rev. Frank Cornelius, a Baptist minister near Dupont, who had been reading on his front porch, was found shot through the head. His family rushed to his assistance. It was thought he was assassinated, but indications are that he committed suicide.

NO PLOT AGAINST CZAR

Revolutionists Say It Was Directed Against Russian Grand Dukes.

London, Sept. 22.—A dispatch from Vienna to the Daily Telegraph says:

"Two members of the Russian revolutionary committee escaping from St. Petersburg arrived here on Wednesday. They declare that it is not true that the plot discovered at Peterhof was planned against Emperor Nicholas or his immediate family, and say it was entirely directed against Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch, who now holds all the threads of power, and Grand Duke Vladimir, who has returned to Russia under the strictest incognito. Grand Duke Nicholas informed General Dedulin, the commandant of the palace, who is his personal appointee, that he was firmly persuaded that revolutionists or allies of the revolutionary committee existed at Peterhof, for twice he had found death sentences on his writing table and that Grand Duke Vladimir had received a similar missive the morning after his arrival, causing great surprise, as his return had been accomplished with the utmost secrecy. General Dedulin instituted a close search of Peterhof, examining all the officials and every apartment. While thus engaged he saw a group in the garden house, who fled at the general's approach. Guards pursued and arrested three men, two of whom were footmen in the service of Grand Duke Nicholas and the other a palace gardener. One of the footmen had in his possession a complete plan of Peterhof palace, with the doors and gates carefully marked. The three men were taken to the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul.

ROOT GUEST OF PANAMANS

Addressed National Assembly and Met High Government Officials.

Panama, Sept. 22.—Secretary of State Elihu Root was the guest of the national assembly, before which he delivered a speech which won for him the high regard of all who heard it. Mr. Root said the United States, the first nation which recognized the republic of Panama, would always retain a keen interest in the preservation of Panaman independence.

At the close of the assembly's session Mr. Root went to the presidential palace, where he was introduced to the high government officials and members of the diplomatic corps. While he was at the palace more than 2000 public school children paraded before the building in Mr. Root's honor.

Governor Magoon gave a banquet to Mr. Root at the American legation, after which Mr. Root attended a reception given by President Amador.

The Mongolia Floated.

Honolulu, Sept. 22.—The steamer Mongolia, which went ashore on Midway Island, has been floated. She is expected to reach here under her own steam. No attempt has been made to recall the Restorer by wireless telegraph, as it is thought her services may yet be required. The Mongolia's passengers, who were to have been brought to this port by the transport Buford, have not yet arrived. The agents here of the Pacific Mail Steamship company think the Mongolia has sustained little damage.

Hazing at Virginia Institute.

Lynchburg, Va., Sept. 22.—The local alumni association of the Virginia Military Institute will meet shortly to consider what steps can be taken to co-operate with General Scott Shipp, the commandant, for suppression of hazing in the institute. Reports received here state that the new cadets have been shockingly mistreated. As a result of hazing a number of students have left for their homes. J. T. Deal, of Norfolk, passed through here enroute for home with his sons. He expressed indignation at their treatment.

Strange Apparition Seen Nightly

Tuesday's Sunbury Daily prints the following:

Residents of the Third ward are greatly excited over a strange apparition which is seen nightly in the yard of Mrs. Samuel Hayward, of Lombard street.

It is now two months since the death of Mr. Hayward. Before he died he buried a large stone in the yard beside his home. What was his idea in so doing people in the neighborhood cannot tell. But they say that every night he returns to visit the buried slab.

Certain it is that a ghostly shadow appears from the deep shade of the trees far back in the yard, that it moves forward to the stone and then disappears. Sometimes it is seen again, but generally it has vanished as if by magic.

The curiosity of the Hayward family, as well as the people nearby, has been greatly aroused by the uncanny spectacle. The figure of a man is perfectly outlined in transparent shadows. It walks without fear or hesitations directly to the buried stone. Yet it cannot be heard, it leaves no footprints in the damp grass, and when it suddenly disappears not the slightest trace of its presence is ever seen.

Many people inclined to superstition are firmly convinced that it is the apparition of Mr. Hayward returning to his earthly home, perhaps to brood over some secret which is buried with the slab.

Others inclined to take a more practical view of the situation say that it is the result of peculiar light effects from the distant arc light. But meanwhile the shadow comes and goes its unconcerned way before the eyes of the mystified spectators.

Danger in Drinking Ice-Water.

It is as unscientific to cool off the human body by flooding one's internals with ice-cold water as it is to cool off a stove by dashing cold water on it. Water fresh from the well or faucet is a good deal better for a person than water from the ice pitcher. In Europe they never put ice into water but set a vessel containning water in the refrigerator when it soon becomes as cold as should be taken into the stomach. The ice-water habit has done the American people a lot of harm. The slavery of some people to ice-water would be amusing if it wasn't amazing.

Paint the Screens,

The ordinary window-screen offers no protection from prying eyes, but the wire netting can be easily made to serve the purpose of a real screen, as well as a protection from flies and other insects. This is accomplished by giving the outside of all screens a coat of thin white paint.

Strange as it may seem, the paint will not be noticeable, and while those inside the house may look through the screen the same as ever, outsiders can not look into the room. The paint should be thinned with turpentine and applied with a broad flat brush. If the paint is sufficiently thin and the work carefully done, it will not have the "daubed" appearance one sees in so much home painting.

AWFUL EXPERIENCE IN STORM

Ward Line Steamer Nearly Foundered In a Tornado.

Havana, Sept. 20.—The Ward line steamer Morro Castle entered the port after a terrible experience in a tornado off Cape Hatteras, in which she had a narrow escape from foundering. The hurricane broke at midnight Sunday with such violence that seas continually swept the ship and smashed nearly all the windows of the upper deck cabins and state rooms. The hatch covers on the main deck forward were torn off and water poured through the openings in such volume as to rise within two feet of the fires, notwithstanding that all the pumps were kept working. The intermediate passengers, on account of the danger of drowning in the cabin, were gotten to other parts of the ship, being obliged to wade through the water. The passengers were greatly terrified, but the ship's crew showed excellent discipline. The ship was headed to the windward, but was driven 50 miles out of her course. One of the quartermasters was swept from the upper deck and drowned.

THE WOMAN WHO COUGHED.

Catarrh had nearly ruined me. It had eaten away the partition in my nose; produced Asthma, Bronchitis, Rheumatism; ruined my stomach; in fact, gone all through my system. Then Grip finished me. I was a wreck; took cold at nothing; and coughed day and night. The doctors dosed me with opium and quinine. No good. Cough "cures"? Bah! Then Brazilian Balm renovated me. Killed every germ. Took 10 $1.00 bottles. Now I'm like a girl of 18.

YOUNG OFFICERS TO COMMAND

War Department Decides On Plan In Case Army is Sent to Cuba.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Young officers for command in Cuba in case the army is sent there is the plan practically decided upon by the war department authorities. General Frederick Funston probably will be in command and his chief lieutenants are likely to be Brigadier Generals Barry and Duval.

Notwithstanding the presence of Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary Bacon in the Cuban capital on a mission looking to the pacification of the island, preparations are going forward to meet any emergency that may arise in case the reconciliation of the warring elements in Cuba cannot be accomplished.

No information from the diplomatic representatives of this government in Cuba concerning the progress of the negotiations instituted by Secretary Taft and Mr. Bacon is expected at the state department, for the reason that those representatives are accredited to the Palma government and officially have nothing to do with the inquiry of the special commission and would not assume to report on any of its functions. Of course any complaints received by the state department of the destruction or imperiling of American interests will go through the usual diplomatic channels and not through the presidential mission.

SAGE HEIRS DROP CONTEST

Settlement With Relatives Effected By Doubling Bequests.

New York, Sept. 22.—The will of Russell Sage was presented to the surrogate and proved without contest. Counsel for the executors announced that Mrs. Sage intends to give to each of Mr. Sage's relatives who are beneficiaries under the will an additional sum equal to the amount of his or her legacy, provided there is no contest. This was accepted as satisfactory by Senator Edgar L. Brackett, of Saratoga, who was in this city preparing to contest the will in behalf of Edson M. Coonrad, of Watervliet, N. Y., a grandson of one of Mr. Sage's sisters. Under this settlement, Coonrad will receive $12,500 instead of $6250, and each of the 26 nephews and nieces of Mr. Sage who were to receive $25,000 will be given $50,000.

TO FIGHT CONGRESSMAN MUDD

Federation of Labor Will Try to Defeat Him For Re-election.

Washington, Sept. 22.—A conference was held in the office of the American Federation of Labor between President Gompers, of the Federation; George Smith, a candidate for congress in the Fifth Maryland district; Edward Hirsch, president of the Baltimore Federation of Labor; H. L. Eichelberger, the Federation's organizer for Maryland, and Thomas F. Tracey, at which Representative Mudd's attitude on labor questions was discussed. A statement issued by the Federation later declared: "Every honorable effort should be made for the defeat of Mr. Mudd. Messrs. Eichelberger and Hirsch will immediately return to Baltimore and begin an actice campaign against Mr. Mudd."

CASTLE MAKES COMPARISONS

Tells Why He Should be Elected Governor of Pennsylvania.

Apollo, Pa., Sept. 20.—In his address at the opera house here, Homer Castle, Prohibitionion nominee for governor, declared that Lewis Emery, the Democratic candidate, was not morally fit to hold the office. He furnished what he designated as sufficient proof of one of the charges which he has been making against Emery, reading from a Bradford newspaper an account of an Italian beer social which Emery was said to have attended. The newspaper reported Emery as telling the Italians that they were "kings and sovereigns," and that they could do as they pleased in this country. Castle said the campaign this year involves the integrity and solvency of the church, which, he declared, could be maintained only by electing the Prohibition nominees. He charged Edwin S. Stuart, the Republican nominee, with being president of the Union League Club, of Philadelphia, which, he said, sold $50,000 worth of liquor last year. In reviewing the three nominees for governor, he said one was a resident of a speakeasy, another a partner in a brewery syndicate, while he himself was a lifelong enemy of the liquor traffic.

A Husband's Retort.

A man, accompanied by his wife, visited a merchant tailor to order a suit of clothes. The couple differed as to the material and the manner of making, and the wife lost her temper.

"Oh, well," she said, turning away, "please yourself. I suppose you are the one who will wear the clothes."

"Well," observed the husband meekly, "I didn't suppose you'd want to wear the coat and waistcoat."—Everybody's Magazine.

WAITING FOR STENSLAND

Fugitive Chicago Banker is Being Brought Back From Tangier.

New York, Sept. 24.—Paul O. Stensland, the fugitive Chicago banker, who is returning from Tangier in the custody of special representatives of the federal government, was not landed in New York. The steamer Prinz Adalbert on which he is a passenger had not yet reached the quarantine station.

The Chicago representatives of the Illinois state's attorneys office with two New York and to Hoboken detective sergeants kept vigil all night at the barge office at the Battery ready ot board a fast tug the moment the steamship Prinz Adalbert with Banker Stensland on board was sighted. Theodore Stensland, son of the fugitive, dissipated the fears of the Chicago officials during the night when Mr. Kinder called on him. The son said he would make no fight on extradition. He added that his only wish in the matter was to avoid all the publicity possible, and agreed that the best plan was to get his father aboard a train and on the way to Chicago.

This declaration followed a letter received from Paul O. Stensland, mailed September 7. The father wrote that his wish was to get back to Chicago with all speed.

U. S. OFFICIALS IN POLITICS

Congress May be Asked to Probe Their Activity in North Carolina.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 24.—United States Senator F. M. Simmons, chairman of the state Democratic committee, charged that federal interference in politics in North Carolina "had become so bold of late" that he intended, if necessary, to ask congress to investigate.

These officials, he said, had always been more or less active in behalf of their candidates and against Democratic candidates. This year, he said, they were marshaled as an army under the direction of its chief, and "present a front of organized activity never before shown by them in this state." He charged that this was because the president and departments of government had turned over to the chairman of the Republican party all federal offices in his state not under the civil service and because the Republicans at their recent convention in Greensboro passed a resolution requiring all candidates for federal positions to file applications for appointment with the executive committee and to agree in writing to abide by the decision of the committee.

Senator Simmons declared that if the government and the courts did not take hold of the conditions in revenue collection district in western North Carolina he would be compelled to demand a senatorial investigation.

The seantor added that he intended to call upon the people of the state to advise him of any political activity of federal officials, and wherever the evidence furnished showed that such official was violating the civil service rule by improper and offensive activity or interference he would refer the matter to the president, the civil service commission or the appropriate executive department with request for an investigation and discipline and punishment.

Weight of a Piece of Ice

A rough and ready method of calculating the weight of a piece of ice is afforded by the fact that a cubic foot of this substance weighs approximately 57.25 pounds. First measure the breadth, length and height of the cake, and the three results, being multiplied, will give the number of cubic inches. If this answer be in turn multiplied by .033 the approximate number of pounds will result. For instance, a cake 8 by 9 to 10 inches contains 725 cubic inches This multiplied by .033 gives 23¾ pounds, the correct weight of such a piece of ice.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

WASHINGTON TO DINGLY.

Since that 4th of July, 1789, when George Washington, signed our first tariff law, a tariff "for the support of the government, for the discharge of the debts of the United States, and for the protection and encouragement of manufactures," we have enacted between forty and fifty tariff laws culminating in what has been known as the Dingley law, approved July 24, 1897, and under which we have been operateing to the present time.

During a large portion of our history the tariff has been made a political issue. It is the only issue by which the Democratic party has been completely victorious in the nation in the single instance when it gained the Presidency and both Senate and House since the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln in 1861. The victory of the Democratic party in 1892, like the victory of the same party in 1844, was due to questionable methods of presenting certain phases of our industrial situation to the voters of the country. Up to that time we had never been so prosperous as we were during the year 1892, at the close of which a free-trade President and Congress were elected. The people were deceived during the campaign as they were deceived during the campaign of 1844, which resulted in the election of Polk and Dallas and a free trade Congress. It will be well then, for the voters of 1906 to study carefully, first, the effect of our tariff laws in general, and to study inparticular the comparison between the operation of the so-called Wilson-Gorman law, which was in effect from 1894 to 1897, and the Dingley law, which has been in effect since.

This Dingley law has been largely the means of bringing us the great prosperity we now enjoy. It is this law that the Democratic party wants to change. For this law they want to substitute a law similar to the Wilson-Gorman law. This, then, is the main issue in this campaign. The Republican party is willing to rest their case with the people, as it now stands. There is no reason why changes of a sweeping character should be made in this law when the time comes, and the Republican party believes it can better conditions and improve our [illegible] it is for the best interest of the country to revise the tariff it will be done, but why should this question be agitated now? Why should there be any thought of revising this tariff at the present time, when our country is so prosperous, and we have more business than we can do? Our laborers and mechanics are inadequate to do the amount of work that we have for them to do With 1,063,000 immigrants coming to this country during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, who have gone to every section of our country we are still short of laboring men and mechanics. Every farm, factory and workshop throughout the United States is working sho handed the employes receiving the highest wages ever known in this country.

Then why disturb existing conditions? Stand by President Roosevelt, and elect the Capt. Chas. F. Barclay who is one of the staunch supporters of the President.

CENTRE'S FIRST REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE.

The nomination of Henry C. Quigley, of Bellefonte, for the State Senate at Philipsburg last Saturday is the first the Republicans of Centre ever had since the district was formed in 1873. Prior to 1873 Clearfield, Clinton, Cambria and Elk formed the 18th Senatorial district. William A. Wallace was the last Senator in that district. Centre at that time was in the 22d district with Juniata, Mifflin and Huntingdon. That district was then entitled under the previous apportionment, to two Senators a was represented at that time by David M. Crawford, of Juniata county, and R Bruce Petriken, of Huntingdon, both Democrats.

The State Senate then was composed of 34 members and the term of office was three years.

In 1874 the Legislature apportioned the State into Senatorial and Representative districts. Clearfield, Centre and Clinton were placed together in the 34th district. William A. Wallace was the first Democratic nominee and was elected in November of that year over E. P. McCormick, Republican, of Clinton county.

Senator Wallace was elevated to the United States Senate in January 1875 and the Democrats of Clearfield county nominated Dr. T. J. Boyer to suceed him. Centre county nominated P. Gray Meek and Clinton S. R Peale.

The conference was deadlocked for a couple of weeks and finally after 239 ballots were taken, Dr. Boyer was named as the candidate of the district. The Republican candidate was Christ, of Clinton county. Dr. Boyer was elected by a large majority.

In 1876 S. R. Peale, of Clinton was the candidate and was elected over Thompson, of Clinton.

In 1878 Cyrus T. Alexander, of Centre, was the Democratic nominee and won out over S. Woods Caldwell, of Clinton, the Greenback-Republican candidate.

In 1882 Senator William A. Wallace was again nominated after the Democratic district conference had been in session several times and arrests for bribery was threatened. The candidates nominated and named by the several counties prior to the conference were, James Flynn by Clearfield; Cyrus T. Alexander by Centre, and S. Woods Caldwell by Clinton. The selection of Senator Wallace was a compromise.

The Republicans nominated Cyrus Gordon, of Clearfield, as their candidate, but Senator Wallace was elected by the usual majority.

The late William W. Betts was the Democratic candidate in 1886 and was elected without any opposition.

P. Gray Meek, of Centre, was the Democratic candidate in 1890 and defeated Malone, of Clinton by a large majority.

In 1894 M. L. McQuown, of Clearfield, received the Republican nomination and defeated both Matt Savage, of Clearfield and S. Woods Callwell, of Clinton, the two Democratic candidates, by 4474 votes.

In 1898 William C. Heinle, of Centre, was the Democratic candidate and William Osborne, of Clearfield the Republican. Heinle was elected.

In 1902 Mr. Heinle was again the Democratic nominee and was defeated by the late A. E. Patton, of Clearfield, by 1967 votes.

Senator Patton died in 1904 and Colonel E. A. Irvin was nominated by the Republicans to fill out the unexpired term. He had no opposition.

It will thus be seen that the Republicans of Centre had some pretty strong claims on the nomination this year, especially in view of the fact that after this year Centre and Clearfield will not be on equal terms in making nominations. Under the new law nominations will be made by a direct vote of the people at the primaries.

"I am pleased to tell you that Peruna has proven a most efficacious remedy in a number of cases where no other medicine was used.

"I consider it a specific for any disorders of the respiratory organs."

STUART STANDS FIRM

Republican Nominee For the People As Against the Corporations.

FOR A TWO-CENT RATE OF FARE

He Leaves No Room to Doubt His Position In His Many Speeches On His Tour of the Counties.

Reports received here from every county in the state indicate a growing sentiment in favor of the entire Republican ticket.

Visitors here during the last few days from the sections visited by Edwin S. Stuart and his colleagues on the Republican ticket in their tour of the state report that Mr. Stuart has been making a very favorable impression with the voters. He is standing squarely upon the party platform, and his words and manner clearly show that he is honest in his pledges to give the people a popular administration, to insist that the corporations shall obey the law, and that they shall not encroach upon the rights of individuals or discriminate against any one, and that they shall be obliged to give a fair return to the state and the people for the franchises which they enjoy.

Mr. Stuart points to his record made as mayor of Philadelphia in the treatment of corporations, where he broke all records by insisting that the street railways should give the city value for the privileges which they enjoy. His stand by the taxpayers in that one fight alone meant the payment of millions by the street railways for the paving of streets, which they would have kept in their treasuries or distributed among their stockholders.

Mr. Stuart is committed to the enactment of legislation making two cents a mile a maximum rate of fare on railroads, and for the creation of a commission which shall have supervision over the railroads of the state.

For a Square Deal.

In a recent speech Mr. Stuart said:

"Much has been said upon the question of corporations, and I desire to say that I have not gone through the state tearing down, upsetting and destroying corporations, because my principle and my ideas are that they should be regulated according to law. Common carriers, railroad companies, all who may receive special privileges must be compelled to exercise those privileges fairly and squarely upon a square deal to every man in every part of the state. There should not be one rate for one man and another rate for somebody else, but they must all be treated as equal. As to the Republican platform, I stand absolutely and unreservedly upon it and will do everything in my power, and I know that in saying that I also speak for my colleagues, to bring about such legislation that will correct according to law any evils we may have, and correct them solely for the benefit and in the best interests of the people of this state. (Applause.)

Will Guard the People's Interests.

"I have had in years gone by, if you will pardon the personal allusion, some experience in treating with legislation wanted by corporations. That record has been made, and it is a part of the history of my native city, and can be inquired into by any man or set of men who desire to do so, and you will find that in my public record in dealing with corporations my first and only desire and my ultimate purpose has always been to see that the interests of the people I represented, and whom I was elected to represent, were properly, legally and honestly taken care of and protected. Without attempting to destroy or to tear down, I have promised that if elected governor of Pennsylvania the interests of the people will be safeguarded and taken care of in every legal and proper way that lies in my power."

Chairman Andrews, of the Republican state committee, has planned to have the gubernatorial candidate and his colleagues speak today, Tuesday, at Lewisburg in the evening; tomorrow, Wednesday, they will be in Smethport in the afternoon, and in Bradford in the evening; on Friday they will visit Tionesta, Forest county, in the afternoon and Warren in the evening. Saturday, September 29, will be spent in Titusville in the afternoon, and Erie in the evening.

What Emery Must Explain.

Candidate Emery, of the Lincolnite Democratic combination, has up to date failed to answer to the charges made against him by Homer L. Castle, Prohibition nominee for governor, or Dr. Silas S. Swallow.

Mr. Emery has not explained how his Pure Oil company works in harmony with the Standard Oil company in fixing prices.

Mr. Emery has not told how Mack, Durham, McNichol and other politicians got stock in his company, nor has he explained what their influence has done to advance the company's interest.

Mr. Emery has not denied his own statements made before the interstate commerce commission that his company got rebates on freight rates, just as he charges the Standard Oil with getting.

Mr. Emery has not answered Robert S. Murphy, the Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, who wants him to explain how he got so immensely wealthy "fighting" the Standard Oil company.

These and other matters Mr. Emery has yet to explain to the voters in his tour of the state.

REFORM IDOLS SMASHED

Sensational Outcome of the Breach Between Weaver and Wanamaker Interests.

"NEW MACHINE" THE WORST

Charges of Bribery and Other Damaging Revelations Play Havoc in the Quaker City.

[Special Correspondence.]

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.

Mayor Weaver's break with the Wanamaker-Van Valkenburg-Gordon political combination will have far-reaching influence upon both local and state politics.

It was the power of the city administration of Philadelphia which gave the Wanamakers, Van Valkenburgs and the Gordons a political following in the last campaign. With the Mack combine of ward leaders working in harmony, they had a political machine which drew thousands of votes from the Republican state and local tickets in November last.

Without this antagonistic influence there is no doubt that Mr. Plummer would have been elected state treasurer, and the Republican ticket in Philedalphia would have been successful.

Working with the Wanamaker newspaper combination against the Republican ticket last fall were the politicians who trained with the city administration, the ward leaders seeking patronage, the contractors desiring to "line up with the powers that be," and even the denizens of the tenderloin, always anxious to stand in with the police, shouted loudly for "reform" throughout that campaign.

The City Party was successful, and enough votes were thrown to Berry, the Democratic-Lincolnite nominee for state treasurer, to elect him also.

Then followed a series of plotting and scheming by the ambitious "reformers" eager to take advantage of the situation for their own selfish interests. There were nearly as many candidates for office as there were committeemen in every ward of Philadelphia. Throughout the state men who were active in the counties in the Lincoln Party aggregation began to hunt for the loaves and fishes.

The Wanamaker lieutenants in the insurgent movement against the late Senator Quay were among the most conspicuous of those who immediately demanded recognition.

Promises made to Mayor Weaver and his friends were forgotten, and the old Wanamaker outfit proceeded to set up in business upon its own account.

Combine of Newspapers and Millions.

It was figured out that with the Wanamaker newspapers and the Emery millions, the logical thing to do was to name Emery for governor. To do this the Wanamaker political managers had to first bowl out Mayor Weaver as a gubernatorial possibility. They proceeded to set up the Lincoln Party state convention for Emery, and succeeded in landing him upon the ticket for governor. They had a Wanamaker supporter in the old senatorial fight for a place upon the proposed fusion ticket, E. A. Coray, of Luzerne, but they were unable to carry out their program.

While the Democratic leaders assented to the deal, the delegates to the Democratic state convention broke the slate and put John J. Green, a Bryanite Democrat of this city, on the ticket for secretary of internal affairs. This resulted in the fusion ticket having three Bryanite Democrats running on it with Emery for governor.

Mayor Weaver' friends branded the Van Valkenburg-Gordon combine as a band of political traitors, after the Emery game was pulled off. The breech between the mayor and the Wanamaker interests widened day by day, until D. Clarence Gibboney was trotted out by the Wanamakerites as a candidate for the City Party nomination for district attorney against Mayor Weaver's personal friend, Frederick J. Shoyer, who had resigned the $10,000 a year office of director of supplies under the Weaver administration, to make a canvass for the district attorneyship.

Soon the lines were sharply drawn between the Gibboney men and the Shoyerites.

What Weayer Discovered.

All of the Wanamaker newspapers turned in for Gibboney, and their news columns and editorial pages were filled with eulogistic matter designed to promote the Gibboney candidacy. The same newspapers were employed to attack or belittle the mayor and Shoyer. These were the same journals which a few months before had been exploiting Mayor Weaver's administration and praising the mayor and his work without stint.

The mayor soon found that a number of the most influential men in his cabinet were setting up their own political fences regardless of his wishes or his personal interests. Some of them were accused of using the patronage and power of his administration secretly to build up a Van Valkenburg political machine to promote the cause of Gibboney and destroy the chances of Shoyer getting the nomination for district attorney. These officials of the Weaver administration, like certain leaders of the City Party, seem to have concluded that the support of the Wanamaker newspapers, or at least their friendship, was more desirable for them to have than the good will of the mayor.

There was a desperate battle between the Gibboney men, backed by the Wanamaker newspapers, the Van Valkenburg lieutenants in the City Party, the Gordonites and what is left of the old Mack combine and the Shoyer campaigners, many of them young members of the bar or churchmen with whom Mr. Shoyer has been associated for years in church work, and the friends of Mayor Weaver, both in and out of his administration.

Upon the face of the returns of the City Party primaries, Shoyer had a majority of nearly 100 delegates. The Van Valkenburg men had the machinery of the City Party city committee. They named the chairman of the convention, and got control of the committee on contested delegates.

So confident was he of winning that Shoyer was present in the convention hall with his wife prepared to accept the congratulations of his friends when he would be nomianted.

The Mayor Charges Bribery.

The Gibboney men were sparring for time.

They rushed through a resolution for the convention to take a recess, and when the convention reassembled, after much disorder, Mr. Gibboney was declared the nominee by a majority of 29 votes in a total poll of 1072. A change of 15 votes upon this return would have made Shoyer the nominee.

The Shoyer men at once insisted that they had been robbed of victory.

Mayor Weaver was one of the most pronounced in denouncing the men responsible, and repudiating the tactics by which his friend Shoyer was defeated.

In a public statement he said:,

"The methods of that convention were worse than any convention of the old corrupt gang. I think a machine which is protected by newspapers is far more dangerous than the most corrupt organization with newspapers against it.

"I want to say most emphatically that I am as much opposed to a corrupt machine in its incipiency as I am to one that has grown gray with age.

"It seems that notwithstanding the fight I made for 18 months against a machine that a more powerful one had arisen, Phoenix-like, from its ashes.

"I believe the recess of the City Party convention was forced and that during that recess the work of changing delegates was done by means of bribery. Before that time Mr. Shoyer had a majority of the delegates, and he would have received that nomination without question had the convention been continued in session.

"Months ago I pointed out the danger that might follow when if one political machine were destroyed a new and more powerful one might grow up.

"Whether this has come to pass I cannot say. I sometimes wonder whether there is more danger in being surrounded by corrupt advisers than by ambitious ones."

When Mayor Weaver was challenged to prove his charges that bribery was employed to influence the nomination of the convention for Gibbony he promptly accepted the challenge and immediately submitted the affidavits of a number of delegates who admitted they had been approached and he personally appeared before an investigation committee to press his case.

The scandal which followed was a great disappointment to sincere reformers who were not familiar with the character of some of the men who have taken hold of the City Party machinery in some of the wards of the city.

Emery Boomers Chagrined.

Mayor Weaver followed up his interview by demanding the resignations of members of his cabinet, with an announcement that hereafter he proposes to have none but those who shall be directly interested in the success of his administration in his cabinet.

There is no doubt that the upheaval has had a serious effect upon the plans of the managers of the Emery movement and the campaign against the local Republican ticket.

The Lincolnite forces and the City Party leaders are demoralized.

Without the active support of the city administration, the rank and file of their organizations will disintegrate.

There are nearly 10,000 city employes, and the employes of city contractors and others identified with the administration will foot up 10,000 more.

With the mayor and his cabinet working in harmony with the Lincoln Party aggregation last fall fully 15,000 of these men voted for the Lincoln Party ticket and they influenced many thousands more to vote the same way.

Not only has the break between the mayor and the Wanamaker newspapers and allied political interests discouraged the Lincoln Party and City Party leaders, but thousands of voters not identified with any political organization have discovered the hypocrisy and sham of the whole Emery movement in this city and will be found supporting the full Republican ticket in November.

Cleanliness is Important.

The best sanitation possible is essential in every town to avoid sickness and death and the consequent burdensome expenditures. The great sources of danger are filthy, overflowing garden closets and the careless disposition of kitchen slop and offal. The disposal of garbage is a serious question so long as there is no municipal system for its removal, but it is never the less a menace to public health and consequently a criminal act to throw garbage into streets or alleys or on lots to decay and pollute the atmosphere with disease germs. Much kitchen garbage could be burned up in the ranges if housekeepers would but take the pains. The health of the people must be protected. The family that permits all sorts of filthy conditions to prevail on the premises, that permits disease-breeding filth to go upon streets or alleys or in gutters to endanger the health of the neighbors, is either ignorant or criminally careless, and if no other education will do then prosecution is the best method of procedure. People who live in a community must learn the duty they owe to the community.

The Poultry Show.

The poultry show at the fair this fall is going to be larger than ever and the best part of it all is that none but Centre county chickens, ducks and geese will be permitted to compete for the premiums. Already many local fanciers are getting their birds in condition for exhibition and there promises an unusually interesting exhibit in this line.

Of course the Pennsylvania State College Experiment Station will make an exhibit of its new poultry department, but it will not enter for premiums, thus leaving the whole field of prizes open to the growers on a small scale.

You can trust a medicine tested 60 years! Sixty years of experience, think of that! Experience with Ayer's Sarsaparilla; the original Sarsaparilla; the strongest Sarsaparilla; the Sarsaparilla the doctors endorse for thin blood, weak nerves, general debility.

But even this grand old medicine cannot do its best work if the liver is inactive and the bowels constipated. For the best possible results, you should take laxative doses of Ayer's Pills while taking the Sarsaparilla. The liver will quickly respond, and so will the bowels.

GRAFT, RED-TAPE, INCOMPETENCY.

Are Among the Chief Reasons why Municipal Ownership Fails.

New York, Sept. 19—Frank M. Hoyt a leading attorney and banker of Milwaukee whose address on "Municipal Ownership" at the Wisconsin State Bankers convention a short time ago created so much comment throughout the country was asked to give the principal reasons why municipal ownership in the United States is such a general failure. He said:—

"The municipality can neither construct nor operate a public utility plant as cheap as a private corporation because it pays more for material and it gets less work from it employees.

The private corporation moving without "red-tape," and having the utmost liberty of action, can avail itself of conditions and opportunities, market and otherwise, which are not open to the municipality, and can thus procure construction and material at a much more favorable price than the municipality, which must follow prescribed forms, advertising for bids, voting on questions of purchase and observing provisions of law, all of which cause costly delays.

"The employees of the private corporation are selected solely on the basis of their fitness for the work they are employed to do. The employees of the municipality except where civil service rules are enforced, are chosen largely for political reasons. Civil service rules—however well applied—are an inadequate substitute for the work of selection done by the individual master.

"The heads of a city administration, "its brains," cannot be chosen by civil service rules. These officials must be elected by popular vote or appointed by officers so elected. The class of men usually elected to administrative office in large municipalities is not such as to inspire confidence in their abilities, or that of their appointees, to handle in the best manner, enterprises envolving the disbursment of large sums of money and requiring the exercises of great business skill.

"Conceding to these officers a disposition to select the most competent men, this desire can with difficulty be fulfilled: not only because the pay offered is usually inadequate for the service but where a reasonable compensation is provided, the great majority of men best qualified to successfully manage a large public utility plant are averse to entering upon an employment where the tenure is as uncertain as that of political office.

"Again—incompetency or failure of duty in the employees of the private corporation is met with prompt discharge.

"The public, elected to office, though incompetent or neglectful, is until the end of his term practically beyond danger of removal from office.

"The employee appointed under civil service rules can safely indolge in a certain amount of remissness of duty, not sufficiently susceptible of proof, to bring about his discharge under the rules, although, that result would follow if he were employed by a private corporation.

"For these reasons the employees of a municipality will not as a class equal those of a private corporation either in ability or the amount of work performed.

"The private corporation moves more quickly than the municipality in meeting the constantly recurring demands of the public for increased and better service.

"By the private corporation the situation is met with the alert business sense of men prompt to recognize the opportunity for increased business, eager to make the gains, which such business brings, and with capital easily commanded whenever a fair return upon the investment is reasonably apparent.

"When the municipality is called upon to act, the speed obtained by the stimulus of private interest is wanting. The slow action of political bodies following prescribed and limited courses is substituted for the unhampered action of a board of directors.

"Political consideration and jealousies of localities delay and sometimes entirely defeat needed action. Lack of funds and inability to exceed a constitutional debt limit, often prevents the making of improvements by the municipality until long after public demand therefore has become imperative.

"Notwithstanding all efforts at reform, it will be a long time, if ever, before "graft" is entirely eliminated from the administration of municipal affairs. The opportunity for the exercise of this form of industry would be greatly multiplied by the increase of the business and the administrative functions of the municipality attendant upon municipal ownership.

"The increase in the number of municipal office holders and municipal employees would build up and intrench in power a political machine detrimental to good government besides which the present examples of that class would appear insignificant.

"The dangers to the state from this source would more than counterbalance all the good that could possibly be derived from municipal ownership even if [illegible] economy and service it [illegible] at its adherents claim [illegible] These and other reasons which could be advanced, demonstrate that from defects inherent in municipal administration, and ineradicable, the municipality can never, either construct or operate a public utility plant as cheaply, nor afford as efficient service, as the private corporation can.

Assaults On Women Started Mob On Wild Rampage.

10 NEGROES KILLED, 40 INJURED

Whites Went Through Streets Unmercifully Beating Colored Persons Wherever Found—State Militia Called Out.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—Atlanta had a race war of no mean proportions. At least 10 lives have been sacrificed and the number of injured will be at least 40, several of whom cannot recover. The city is controlled by the police, aided by nearly 1000 of the state militia. Every part of the town is patrolled by the soldiers, and the authorities seem to have the situation well in hand. Governor Terrell, who ordered seven companies of the state military service from points outside of Atlanta to aid the eight local companies, stands ready to declare the city under martial law if the scenes of Saturday are repeated.

Four attempts at assault on white women by negroes within or near the limits of the city wrought white citizens here to a pitch of excitement. The assaults followed two others of a similar nature within the week and at least half a dozen others within the last two months, and brought a slimax Saturday night.

This condition came as the result of numerous and repeated assaults or attempted assaults upon white women by negroes. The list of an even dozen of such assaults within the limits of Fulton county within the last nine weeks came when four attempts at assault were reported. Flaring headlines in the special editions of the papers wrought the populace to a high pitch of excitement.

The usual Saturday night crowds were largely increased by men and boys, who thronged the downtown streets. There was no leader and no overt act until late in the evening. A negro man shoved a white woman from the sidewalk on Whitehall street, in the centre of the town. Almost simultaneously a negro woman made an insulting remark to a white man on an adjoining street, and he administered what he considered due punishment. From this start the mob began its work of destruction.

Five thousand men and boys thronged the downtown streets looking for negroes. News that a riot had started brought thousands more from their homes in the suburbs and residence districts, until fully 10,000 men thronged the downtown section. They made attacks on the incoming street cars. Each car was scanned for negroes. The trolleys were pulled from the wires, and in the semi-darkness of the unlighted cars negroes were beaten, cut and stamped upon in an unreasoning, mad frenzy. If a negro ventured resistance or remonstrated it meant practically sure death. One car, half filled with negroes, approached from an outside run. The mob dashed for the car. Resistance was made by the negroes, who had not been apprised of trouble. Three negroes lay dead on the floor of the car when it was permitted to move on, and two more were seriously beaten and unconscious.

The entire fire department was called out to clear the streets, and when that move failed the governor was called on to order out the militia, and he promptly complied.

The attacks on negroes had the effect of clearing the streets of blacks. Street hacks were abandoned at curbings; drivers on baggage wagons vanished and their places were taken by white men. This fear of trouble has affected several public conveniences Sunday. The postoffice officials had much difficulty in delivering special letters; ice deliveries have been scarce to private homes; in some restaurants service has been restricted by the absence of regular waiters. Throughout the day hundreds of negroes have been fleeing the city, by train and wagon and on foot. They have hurried from the city, fearing the possibilities of trouble in the immedaite future.

In the fighting the negro women were the most warlike, urging resistance to the mob, they themselves fighting like Amazons.

Negroes Leave Cotton Plantations.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 24.—Reports of losses threatened to the cotton crop by reason of negroes leaving the plantations in large numbers to engage in other branches of labor have been received by New Orleans cotton dealers. The loss of negroes from the plantations is attributed principally to inducements offered them in railroad construction.

MAKESHIFT FOR IRELAND

England Will Grant Only "Administrative Home Rule."

Dublin, Sept. 24.—John Redmond, speaking at Grange, County Limerick, said that the Irish party and people stood face to face with a delicate and most extraordinary situation. The members of the government, with two or three exceptions, had said they would introduce next year a bill dealing with Irish self-government, but he had now been informed that it was their intention to grant only what they called "administrative home rule."

The Irish party, Mr. Redmond declared, had no responsibility, direct or indirect, for the proposal of any such makeshift. Neither his colleague nor himself had been consulted on the measure, and if they did not know the government's mind the government should know theirs.

The Irish people stood where they had always stood. They had declared that nothing short of a complete measure of home rule, and thereby meant a parliament freely elected, with an executive responsible thereto, could ever be accepted in settlement of the Irish question. If the prime minister's plan was merely a half-way house he would advise the party and the people to reject it. The government, Mr. Redmond added, had in a score of instances disregarded Irish public opinion and falsified promises given.

COMMERCE BREAKS RECORDS

mports and Exports Cross the $3,000,000,000 Mark.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The foreign commerce of the United States has crossed the $3,000,000,000 line. In the 12 months ending with August the imports were $1,254,399,735 and the exports $1,759,417,898, a total for the 12 months of $3,013,817,633. These figures are supplied by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, which in a bulletin says in part:

"The August figures of both imports and exports exceeded those of any preceding August in the history of our commerce. August imports for the first time crossed the $100,000,000 line. The imports have exceeded $100,000,000 in practically every month of the last year, but August is usually a light month for imports, and thus the record of more than $100,000,000 for the month of August is made for the first time in the figures of the month just ended, which show imports of $105,588,604 against $96,000,000 in August of 1905.

"The export figures for August are also larger than those for any preceding August, amounting to $129,454,760, against $118,000,000 in August 1905, $108,000,000 in August, 1901.

CLUNG TO WRECKAGE FIVE DAYS

Two Seamen Were Saved After a Terrible Experience.

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 22. — The tug Blanche, of Wilmington, towed into Southport the schooner Georgette Lawrence, Captain Rollent, from New York to Charleston. The vessel had been anchored off the bar since Tuesday following the fearful storm off this coast Monday. Aboard the Lawrence were Captain Sayres and a negro seaman, who came floating by on a piece of wreckage from their vessel, the schooner R. D. Bibber, which was wrecked off Frying Pan Monday morning. They were pulled aboard the Lawrence, and told a fearful story of their experience. For five days they floated about on wreckage and were without food or water, and Captain Sayres was helpless when taken on board. The negro seaman was apparently all right and suffered very little.

A BOGUS BANK EXAMINER

Imposter Examines Loans and Counts the Cash.

Washington, Sept. 22.—The comptroller of the currency has been advised by the national bank examiner for New Jersey that a party representing himself as Arthur E. Curry and a national bank examiner at large, recently called at several banks at Newark, N. J., and stated that he had been instructed by the comptroller to make an examination of their loans and count their cash.

The comptroller states that no person of this name has been commissioned as a national bank examiner, or is connected with the currency bureau in any way. Arthur L. Curry, of Chicago, Ills., holds a commission as national bank examiner, but the work that he has done for the bureau has been altogether in connection with solvent national banks. He has never been employed in the examination of active associations. The comptroller states that the party named is an imposter, and is no doubt impersonating Arthur L. Curry.

The banks are warned against him by the comptroller, who said they should take steps to procure his arrest.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

There Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong And Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 raius of impure matte daily, when unhealthy some part o this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousnesa, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

W. R. Camp, of the firm of Kirk-Camp Furniture Co., Logan Ave. and 14th St., Tyrone, Pa., says: "Experience has taught me that Doan's Kidney Pills is an excellent remedy and one that strictly fulfills its promises. In the fall of 1897 I gave for publication in our local papers a statement covering my experience with this remedy and recommending it to others, and now in the month of June, 1904, I just as enthusiastically recommend it as I did at that time. Doan's kidney pills completely relieved me of an aching in the small of my back and lameness through the loins due to kidney trouble. We always keep this preparation in the house for use in case of need, and it has never failed to give splendid satisfaction. I heartily endorse it.

TAFT WILL MAKE PEACE

Cuban Trouble Will Be Settled Without Armed Intervention.

BUSINESS MEN DISAPPOINTED

Have No Confidence in Ability of Cubans to Govern Themselves, and Favor Annexation—Must Give Them Another Chance.

Havana, Sept. 24.—All classes are now waiting for the conditions under which tranquility will likely be restored in Cuba, and keen disappointment is expressed on every side because of the likelihood of peace being brought about without armed American intervention.

That the differences of the opposing factions could be reconciled was not generally believed to be possible until Sunday, when it was announced that the Liberals and the insurgents had empowered a committee to represent them before the American mediators.

It is evident that the business interests of the island have no confidence in the ability of the Cubans to rule themselves, and now, when it appears too late, they are openly favoring intervention and possibly annexation.

Secretary of War Taft is cognizant of this general opinion that peace cannot last unless it is enforced by an American army, but he considers that it is the duty of the United States to give the republic another chance, and believes that it would be bad policy for the United States to keep a force in Cuba longer than was required to supervise the laying down of arms. He said that if the Liberals and Moderates harmonize their differences the United States must regard the compact as made in good faith.

That will come as the result of the mediation of the United States is now believed by Cubans, regardless of party affiliation, but whether it will be on terms which will insure permanent tranquility is questioned.

Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon spent Sunday quietly, receiving few persons. Representatives of the veterans and of the dimplomatic corps made brief visits. Senator Alfredo Zayas later met the mediators at the American legation and arranged for their first meeting with the insurgents and Liberals' committee. All conferences hereafter will be held at the legation on account of its accessability, since all of the visitors to Messrs. Taft and Bacon reside in Havana.

When the diplomatic represenatives of the foreign powers visited Mr. Morgan's villa at Marianao, Mr. Taft significantly stated that he could give them no definite assurances of peace, for the reason that terms had not been put forward. This statement was in response to an expression from Gaytan de Ayala, the Spanish minister, that the world expected the United States to settle the turmoil on such gereous but firm conditions as to maintain the integrity of the republic.

The members of the dimplomatic corps were also received by Mr. Bacon, who sought their views on the situation. All of them asserted that their government desired the conflict to be ended with all possible dispatch in order to save commeroial relations and credit between the island and their countries from ruin.

Among the other callers at Marianao were Generals Meocal and Agramonte, who congratulated Messrs. Taft and Bacon on their success in bringing the Moderate and the Liberal leaders to a realization of the necessity of each making some concessions. The veterans evidenced sympathy with many of the principles for which the insurgents took up arms. They suggested that the first basis of the negotiations should be for the revision of the Cuban constitution, alleging that it confers too much power and too little responsibility upon the members of the cabinet.

The nearest insurgent camp, near La Lisa, just west of Marianao, was visited by great crowds of Havanese. Ensouraged by the reports that peace was imminent, the people for the first time dared to gratify their curiosity and to show their great sympathy with the revolutionary cause. Although it was raining this did not dampen the ardor of those who wished to visit the insurgents. Many extra cars were in operation, and every kind of conveyance was used by the crowd, but these were insufficient, and many persons walked the twelve miles from Havana to the camp. It is feared that the effect of this enthusiasm may be bad in the event that the peace terms require the rebels to make decided concessions. In the rebel camps are thousands of negroes, to whom revolutionary life is easy and interesting as compared with labor on plantations. Some of the more refined of the officers, however, admit that they would not be sorry to return to their homes.

DOWIE NEEDS THE MONEY

Tells His Followers to Lead Peaceful Lives and Pay Their Tithes.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—John Alexander Dowie delivered his parting message to his followers in Shiloh House Sunday afternoon. He expects to start for Mexico Tuesday. He talked of his plans to return to Zion City next summer and build a great mansion for the coming of Christ and the dawn of the millenium. But he said it was possible that the Lord might call him home before that time.

"I am not going to Mexico to stay," he said. "I want to build a great house on Mount Carmel to entertain the Children of God. I feel that I must build it for the coming of the King. He will come soon.

"I shall come back and come into my own. My attorneys have appealed my case and I feel that the Lord will not desert me. I believe that God will send His Son to me when the time of the millenium comes.

"Live peaceful lives, my people. Get all the money you can, save all you can, and give all you can. You have promised to pay your tithes regularly, and the First Apostle needs a little money now. They have tied up my estate, so that I can get nothing.

"I am a sick man in many respects. My disease is a broken heart. I have lived with Mrs. Dowie 25 years a broken-hearted man. She abused me every day. I do not know whether I shall ever see her again. I shall be a lonely man, but I want you to help to make my lot as easy as you can. If my wife repents I will forgive her, but I never will restore her to her former position."

STUCK THE BABY FULL OF PINS

Astounding Confession and Demonstration of Young Negress.

Chester, Pa., Sept. 24.—Mary Douglass, a 15-year-old negro girl, a child's nurse at the home of Captain E. Oliver Mahon, of company B, National Guards, was arrested, charged with sticking pins in three-months-old Jeannette Mahon, whose illness puzzled the attending physician, Dr. F. Powel, for several days. Making an examination he removed from the child 14 small pins and a safety.

Mary confessed to the doctor and Mrs. Mahon that she used the baby as a human pin-cushion. When brought before Chief of Police Williams, however, she denied the accusation.

She was committed to the Detention Home for a hearing. The child's condition is serious.

BULL GORES FARMER TO DEATH

Also Tries to Kill Victim's Niece, But Is Overpowered.

Millerton, Pa., Sept. 24.—David Bly, of this place, is dead, having been gored by a bull, one of the herd of his nephew here. The animal was confined in a barn by reason of his ugliness, but was let out in the yard by him, contrary to advice of his niece, Mrs. Charles Bly, and he attempted to drive him to pasture.

The brute turned on him, and although he was armed with a club, brushed him to one side, thre him high into the air, and when he came down gored him repeatedly.

Mrs. Bly attempted to drive the beast away, but narrowly escaped herself meeting a similar fate. Her screams brought help. Bly was dead when picked up.

Love Affair Caused Double Suicide.

Indianapolis, Sept. 24.—The bodies of Mrs. Mary Williams, 40 years old, and Samuel Jones, 18 years old, were found on a bed at the Hotel St. James. Death was due to gas asphyxiation. Policemen attributed the tragic ending of the pair to a love affair and premeditated suicide. This theory, it is said, is substantiated by letters found on the body of the young man.

For the Stomach Heart and Kidneys

Dr. Shoop's Restorative Is a Cause Cure—not a Symptom Cure.

It is a common mistake to take artificial digesters for stomach troubles—or heart stimulants for weak heart—or so-called kidney remedies for diseased kidneys. These organs do not act separately or of their own accord—they have no control over themselves—and not once in 500 times is the sickness the fault of the organ. It is the fault of the nerves which control the organs and only through these nerves can stomach, kidney or heart disorders be cured. Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wisconsin, learned early in his medical experience that these inside nerves were the power nerves—that through them only was it possible to cure digestion, heartburn, belching, insomnia, backache, heart weakness, Bright's disease and other affections of the kidneys. For all of these ailments are not separate sicknesses as are not to be treated as such. They merely symptoms of inside nerve weakness, and when the nerves are restored the symptoms and the sickness disappear. The remedy which Dr. Shoop prescribed for these ailing nerves is known as Dr. Shoop Restorative. It relieves the pain and distress of kidney, stomach and heart troubles quicker even than those medicines designed simply to give temporary relief. Dr. Shoop's Restorative (Tablets or Liquid) can now be had of druggists everywhere. For sale and recommended by

A REVOLTING MURDER

Dismembered Body of Man Wrapped In Bag Found In New York.

HEAD AND THIGHS ARE MISSING

Body Had Been Skilfully Cut Up and Placed in Three Packages, Bound by a Strip of a Woman's Skirt—No Clue to Slayers.

New York, Sept. 24.—A burlap bag, stamped with the name "Z. K. Mano," a strip of a woman's skirt and an oilcloth table covering, bearing a rude sketch of the landing of Columbus, are the only immediate clues to the perpetrators of a revolting murder, accidentally revealed by a gruesome discovery in West 36th street.

The dismembered body of a man, apparently an Italian, wrapped in the burlap bag was found in a hole 24 feet deep, forming a part of an excavation at 604 West 36th street, where an addition to a brewery is to stand. The discovery was made by the day watchman for the building contractors, and later a systematic search by the police resulted in finding the parts of a man's legs from the knees down, and the arms and hands. These were wrapped together in a newspaper of the date of September 10, and bound about the bundle was a strip of a woman's skirt. All was neatly and securely tied with a string, suggesting deliberate preparation. This latter bundle was found under a covering of hay in a freight car at 36th street and 11th avenue. The car was unloaded of a shipment of horses. The head and the thighs of the man are missing. It is the theory of the police that the murder was committed near where the body was found, and that three packages of the dismembered parts had been made with the purpose that they be disposed of at some distance from the scene of the crime. The police believe that the persons carrying the bundles became alarmed and hurriedly disposed of the at the nearest convenient hiding place. They expect to find a third package in the same vicinity.

Coroner's physician Weston, who examined the body, said that the work of dismemberment had been deliberately and skilfull done.

Dr. Weston uncovered the body, which had been first wrapped in a newspaper, then covered with a table cover of oil cloth. Dr. Weston said from appearances the remains were those of an Italian or Syrian, in life about five feet three inches in height, weighing approximately 130 pounds, and from the appearance of the hands probably a mechanic. The body had been washed after death, which had evidently preceded the discovery of the murder only a few hours.

There were three stab wounds on the body, one immediately over the heart, another in the left shoulder, and the third in the right breast.

The burlap bag bore the name of "Z. K. Mano," and was of the type which are in use in the importation of Syrian nuts to this country. In the directory the name Z. K. Mano appears as a nut importer of No. 67 Washington street, and inquiries there show that Mr. Mano, a Syrian, died six weeks ago, and that about three weeks since his wife auctioned off the stock in trade of her late husband's business.

The trunk and legs were removed to the morgue, and Inspector Walsh took charge of the case.

Auto Fatally Injures Boy.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 24.—Two automobile accidents occurred here, in one of which James Kopi Tovelli, aged 8 years, was fatally injured, and in the other Charles Kuhne, a music teacher, of St. Nicholas avenue, New York, was badly hurt. In the case of the boy, he was riding on the handle bars of a bicycle and lost control of the machine. The bicycle ran in front of an auto, in which were Mrs. Rudolph V. Kuser, of this city, and her sister. In the other accident the auto was owned and driven by Stephen Harrison, and ran into a huckster wagon. The shafts of the wagon struck Kuhne on the head.

Fifty-two Had Narrow Escape.

Wabash, Ind., Sept. 24.—Fifty-two persons attached to an amusement company, which has been exhibiting at Fort Wayne, Ind., had a narrow escape from death near Wabash. The show people were in a special car, which left the track, and was held by a telegraph pole, suspended over a deep ditch. Fifteen persons were slightly injured.

TO SAVE LABOR.

Farmers up Against the Labor Question all Over the Country.

For years the cities have been troubled with their labor problems, and now the country is getting a touch of it. There used to be a time when it was said that a farmer should not figure that his time was worth anything, but that time has long since passed. It is worth a good deal now, and is getting more valuable every day. Probably there is not a farmer who feels he could afford to quit work on his own farm for twice the wages of the average hired man, and it is hard, nowadays, to get a good hired man for $20 a month, board and washing furnished at that. This is taking the proposition on the basis of the average.

It has been only in the last five years that we have drifted so rapidly into the way of hurry and rustle in order to keep up with the work on the farm, but each season, has seen the amount of work increase and the help to do it decrease. Said a farmer to us the other day, "If I knew where to hire help, I would hire it, but I do not, and rather than let some land lie idle, I try to do too much; and every season the work seems harder." This is the way, not only with this neighbor, but with a large number of others we know and thousands we do not know. Where are we going to find the remedy.

There was a time when 160 acres of land was though to be a little less than a man could make a living on. It is getting now to be too much to make a living on, living the life that is worth living. The hunt now is for the 80-acre farm. We know of several who have been inquiring for the fairly well improved 80-acre farm Some of them wish to sell their larger farm, some are renters looking for a farm of their own, while many have already sold and past experience with the labor problem of the modern farm tells them that 80 acres is enough.

There is but one salvation for the farmer of the future who farms a large number of acres, and that is to own every tool that will save labor, but the more contented man of the lot will be he who forms only what he can farm well with out hurrying all the season.

Watch the Candidates

Farmers should watch every candidate for the State and National Legislature. No farmer should vote for any candidate who will not say whether he will vote for or against the interests of the farmers. In this State the farmers need to watch very closely every candidate for the Legislature. Many men elected by the farmers turn round and vote to hurt the farmers by passing fool game laws, fool road laws and such other laws that simply hurt the farmers without benefitting anybody else. Find out how they stand. If they do not propose to stand by you, then don't stand by them. Farmers learn to protect your own interest by the ballot.

—This probably isn't true, but it's told that a certain young lady on Thomas street, in order to make her neighbors think she has company, on dark nights lights a piece of punk and fixes it on the porch just about where the end of a cigar would come if the smoker were sitting beside her in the swing.

—The theatre patrons of Garman's opera house will be indebted to Mr. Harry B. Linton next Frday, Sept. 28, for bringing here that great eastern success "Queen of the Arena," which, it is said, is the largest and finest equipped comedy-drama on the road. In this grand and glorious country no one need to be without an honorable occupation.

—One kicker in the family circle can stir up more dissension than a dozen on the outside. "Why, a little while ago I saw written on the board, 'find the common multiple.' Well, I looked from cellar to garret, and I wouldn't know the thing if I met it on the street. What made me quit my job? Last night in big writin' on the blackboard, it said, 'find the greatest common devisor.' The Normal Eleven Wins from the Academy.

The Lock Haven Normal foot ball team was too much for the Bellefonte Academy team on Saturday and defeated them by 5 to 0 score at Lock Haven. The game was a scrappy one and there was a lot of dispute over the rules.

Bastian, Normal's speedy quarterback, made the only touchdown of the game on a 25 yard quarterback run.

The Normal team has a decided advantage over the Bellefonte team during the whole game and kept the ball in Bellefonte's territory all the time, keeping Bellefonte on the defensive throughout the game. The line up:

The Elder's Prairie Chicken.

Rev. J. J. Pearce, D. D. of Pennsylvania, is an eminent minister of the gospel, a successful politician (he has been a member of Congress), a true sportsman, and a noble specimen of a man.

While on a visit to friends in Iowa a few years ago he expressed a great desire to have a chicken hunt, and to be able to say on his return that he had dined on the noble bird of the prairie. A hunt was organized and he put himself at its head; and after a hard day's work and many miles' travel, the shooters returned with a half dozen birds. These were given to the wife of one of the party to be prepared for supper, and the Elder was invited. Supper time came; there were pies, cakes, preserves, meats of every kind and variety, but no prairie chicken. The Elder was puzzled as well as disappointed. The woman being interviewed about it afterward, said that she had been better raised than to set the likes of a prairie before a nice gentleman like Mr. Pearce.

Sample Talks to Men.

G. C. K. Sample, the evangelist, opened evangelistic services at the Y. M. C. A., Sunday afternoon, to a turnout which gives encouragement for a good work to be done.

Mr. Sample is a railroad man who gave up running an engine to devote his life to the saving of men. He is a man who knows the temptation of the laboring men and is interested in showing them how they can be saved.

His talk was very interesting and all who heard him will never regret it. He will continue his talk every night this week, except Saturday, and no man should miss the chance to hear him.

W. T. CREASY At GRANGE PARK.

Only a Small Audience Greets Democratic Orator at Centre Hall.

William T. Creasy, of Catawissa, Columbia County, the democratic candidate for Auditor General was the principal speaker at Grange Park, Centre Hall, on Wednesday. It was supposed to be Democratic Day but by the looks of the crowd in the Auditorium and around the Democratic headquarters they must be getting scarce in Centre county.

There was no attempt to hold a democratic meeting in that sense of the word. County Chairman N. B. Spangler was not visible and the distinguished visitor seemed to paddle around by himself. However quite a number of people were introduced to Mr. Creasy by Hon. Leonard Rhone and they found him a very pleasant and agreeable gentleman.

At the Grange meeting in the afternoon, George M. Dale presided and introduced the speakers Addresses were made by Albert M. Cornell, of Columbia, C. P. Roads, Lecturer of the State Grange; Hon. J. T. Ailman, Secretary of the State Grange, of Thompsontown, Juniata county; Hon. W. T. Creasy, of Catawissa, Pa., for twelve years a member of the legislature from Columbia County. He reviewed the work of the last two legislatures and made a scathing attack on the Standard Oil Company the Pennsylvania Railroad and the loss in politics.

A Good Roads Association Organized.

A meeting of prominent citizens, who are interested in the improvement of the public highways of Centre County was held in Bellefonte on Monday evening. As a result of this meeting a "Good Roads Association of Centre County" was organized, having for its object the improvement of the roads of the county with special reference to those that are most used, many of which through continued inattention have become almost impassable.

It is a lamentable fact that on many prominent roads in Centre County the loose stones have not been removed during the entire season. The unusually heavy rains have caused these roads to wash badly so that in many places they are literally a bed of loose stones. It is to be hoped, that through the efforts of this association, a public sentiment will be aroused, which will lead to a marked improvement of the highways.

Many of the roads of the county lead through fertile valleys, in which are situated the finest farms of the country. With a reasonable effort on the part of the public these farms could be approached by well built, substantial roads over which it would be a pleasure to drive.

The State has provided means for the construction of durable roads that are much praised and highly appreciated wherever such have been built. Will the property owners of Centre County longer permit State aid to be given to other parts of the State without any attempt to secure some of the benefits of Centre County?
